

Starting a Chapter

The National English Honor Society recognizes the academic accomplishments of the world's high school students and promotes their continuing interest in the English language arts.

NEHS is the only high school honor society exclusively for students of English. As such, it provides a unique opportunity to engage students, teachers, and schools in the valuable experience of participating in a discipline-related international honor society.

Our Mission

The National English Honor Society celebrates the contribution of high school students worldwide.

Our mission is to cultivate a vibrant community where high school students and educators can immerse themselves in promoting literacy and serving society, while honoring exceptional and diverse achievements in the English language arts and related subjects.

Our work with schools

The National English Honor Society connects schools with an international network of English teachers and students dedicated to language, literature, and writing.

An NEHS chapter at your school provides opportunities to:

- Involve top students and teachers in academically- and culturally-enriching experiences
- Recognize the achievement of outstanding students
- Enhance your school's reputation through affiliation with a national honor society

Our work with educators

Educators play a key role in the National English Honor Society by leading our Chapters.

Chapter Advisors can apply for the following benefits:

- Grants to expand classroom libraries
- Financial support for Professional Development opportunities
- Opportunities to enrich teaching and learning on a local, national, and international level
- Support for diversity, equity, and inclusion projects

Our partners in education

The National English Honor Society, as part of the English Honor Societies, partners with the following organizations to advance our vision of education:

English Language Arts Honor Society (for students in grades 6-9)

Sigma Tau Delta International English Honor Society (for students at four-year universities and colleges)

Sigma Kappa Delta: The English Honor Society for Two-Year Colleges (for students at two-year colleges)

Our work with students

The National English Honor Society is for students!

Membership is an honor bestowed on high-achieving students who have experienced the power of literature, the pleasures of good writing, and the excitement of language studies.

NEHS provides recognition for past achievement, the nurturing of present interests, and encouragement for future success in the following ways:

- Worldwide academic recognition
- Global higher education scholarships
- Opportunities for creative expression
- Leadership skills development
- Community service projects
- Membership of an international community
- Profound interaction with the English language arts
