Student Journalism Awards

NEHS is excited to continue working with The Harvard Crimson. This exciting award celebrates high school students who, through their dedication to the art and craft of journalism, have made a profound impact on their own lives, enriched the lives of their peers, and enhanced their school's culture.

Student Publication Award

- The Student Publication Award is given to the editorial boards of on-going student-led school-wide journalistic publications produced at schools with active NEHS chapters.

Student Article Award

- The Student Article Award is given to the author of an article published in an on-going, student-led, school-wide journalistic publication produced at a school with an active NEHS chapter.
